

Elmo Live Animated Toy

There are many animated toys out there; but Elmo Live is one that can be called 'wonderful', thanks to the advancements of technology. The best part of Elmo Live is its liveliness. It is full of life and very energetic it tells stories, cracks jokes, dances and sings. At the same time, it laughs in a humorous way throwing his head back. The funniest activity of Elmo Live is the way it realizes that he has fallen down! He does not forget to thank you when you help him to get up.

The animation is of so high standard that Elmo Live often seems real rather than a toy! This toy is going to stay here for long. This amazing toy made by Fisher-Price is perfect for the kids of 18 months and above.

It gets started very fast and greets you with a funny laugh throwing his head back. To make it crack silly comments, just press his foot, nose, hand or tummy. Elmo is very talkative; a storyteller to be precise. He sings as well.

And it's truly amazing the way Elmo moves. A tiny blue stool is there on which Elmo Live sits while telling the stories with legs crossed. Then somehow, he stands up and starts moving without falling down.

Elmo always falls intentionally; and those are the funniest moments. When he falls down he asks for help; as you help him get up, he thanks you too!

Elmo Live is a bit heavy in weight; though that does not matter to the kids. They just keep watching Elmo with eyes open wide. Elmo Live is a great toy to make the kids happy.
